MEETING ARRANGEMENTS

1. As arranged at the previous meeting (see SIM/375) case officer [] was to meet agent Grallspace 1 on 21 January 1954, at 1300 hours, at the Grallspace safe apartment. Case officer arrived at the apartment at 1250 hours where he unexpectedly found a workman busily engaged in painting the bathroom. He went back downstairs and was fortunate in intercepting Grallspace 1 as he was just entering the apartment building. Explaining that a meeting could not be held upstairs, case officer suggested that they go down the street to the Cafe Lehnerhof for the meeting. The meeting lasted approximately 45 minutes.

OPERATIONAL MATTERS

2. Agent reported that Gertraud KOESSLER (see para 2 of SIM/375) has continued to visit agent at his apartment during the last week. Agent also reported that he had learned that KOESSLER was a student and writer in her own way and that she wrote book reviews for a student newspaper called Die Blätter. Agent believes this newspaper is published in Munich. (C.O. Note: It may now seem that KOESSLER is sincerely interested in literature, philosophy etc. and may have a genuine desire in learning Russian as noted in SIM/375). Grallspace 1 also said that KOESSLER had invited him to some cozy mountain retreat for the weekend of the 23rd. However, case officer and agent both agreed that as pleasant as this might be the invitation should be declined. Agent also reported that he had learned from Mr. WACHS (see SIM/375 para 2) that the nudist colony was called the LPFL - "Liga Für Fortschrittliche Lebensgestaltung, Salzburg Postfach 632. (C.O. Note: This is probably the address of the Salzburg branch.) Case officer thanked agent for this information but at the same time told him that he need not exploit this lead any further.

PERSONAL MATTERS

3. Case officer and agent spent the majority of the meeting on agent's study of the U. S. Constitution.
